

Serve App Guidelines

The Serve App is about giving, receiving and sharing, not buying or selling. Please post only free items or items you're willing to share with minimal strings attached. If you really want to sell your grandma's china but missed out on the Antique Road Show, try eBay or the "Discussion Board" app.

Keep it appropriate

Is it really a need? Consider the value of people's time, energy and resources when posting. Sure, we'd all love someone to come clean our house once a week—but is it something you can't handle on your own, or just something you'd rather not? On the flip side, we are the body of Christ. We take care of each other. Sometimes we just need to know how.

Note: As a non-profit organization, Harvest Community Church is restricted in support of political causes or candidates and will remove any related content.

Ask first

If you are aware of a person or family's need at Harvest Community Church, suggest they post it themselves on The Table. Don't post on behalf of another person or family unless you have received their permission.

Make it timely

Please keep postings current (within 90 days of a serving opportunity or need) and delete postings that have been fulfilled ahead of their built-in expiration.

Be safe, be smart

All social media has some inherent risk. Please use the Serve App with appropriate caution and integrity. Harvest Community Church is not responsible or liable for interactions on The Table or their outcomes.
